

REFERENCES

- Anderson, D. (1993). Sources of Australian Academics' Qualifications. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- ASTEC, (1989). Profile of Australian Science, Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- ASTEC (1990). Small Country, Big Science. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- Australian Research Council (1996). Problems associated with International Comparisons Using Higher Education R&D Statistics. ARC Meeting Agenda Paper, 18-19 July.
- Bazeley, P., Kemp, L., Stevens, K., Asmar, C., Grbich, C., Marsh, H., & Bhathal, R. (in press). Waiting in the Wings: A Study of Early Career Academic Researchers in Australia. A report funded by the Australian Research Council, and the National Board of Employment, Education and Training under the Innovative Projects Grants. Canberra: Australian Government Publishing Service.
- Beaver, D. deB., & Rosen, R. (1979) Studies in scientific collaboration. Pt 2. Scientific co-authorship, research productivity and visibility in the French scientific elite, 1799-1830. Scientometrics, 1, 133-149.
- Blume, S. (1995) Problems and prospects of research training in the 1990's. In Research Training Present and Future, organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, Paris.
- Bourke, P. & Butler, L. (1993) A Crisis for Australian Science? Performance Indicators Project, Monograph Series No 1, Australian National University, Canberra.
- Bourke, P., Butler, L., & Biglia, B. (1996) Monitoring Research in the Periphery: Australia and the ISI Indices. Research Evaluation and Policy Project, Monograph Series No 3, Australian National University, Canberra.
- Bowman, M. (1991) Format citation patterns and their implications for collection development in research libraries, Collection Building, 11(1), 2-8.

- Budd, J. (1986) A citation study of American literature: Implications for collection management, Collection Management, 8 (2), 49-62.
- Burdick, A.J., Butler, A., & Sullivan, M.G. (1993) Citation patterns in the health sciences: Implications for serials/monographic fund allocation, Bulletin of the Medical Library Association, 81 (1), 44-47.
- Bureau of Industry Economics. (1996a) Science System: International Benchmarking. Report 96/2. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- Bureau of Industry Economics. (1996b) Australian Science: Performance from Published Papers. Report 96/3. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- Calhoun, J.C. (1995) Serials citations and holdings correlation, Library Resources & Technical Services, 39 (1), 53-57.
- Colombo, U. (1995). The importance of International Organizations in cooperation in science and technology. In Choices for Europe, Symposium for Dr Jan Borgman, NWO, The Hague.
- Grigg, L. (in press) The internationalisation of Australian Higher Education: An Evaluation of the Contribution of the Overseas Postgraduate Research Scholarships Scheme. Department of Employment, Education, Training and Youth Affairs, To be published by Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- Haas, S.C., & Lee, K. (1991) Research journal usage by the Forestry Faculty at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Collection Building, 11 (2), 23-25.
- Heidenwolf, T. (1994) Evaluation an interdisciplinary research collection, Collection Management, 18 (3/4), 33-48.
- IDP Australia. (1995). Curriculum Development for Internationalisation: An OECD/CERI Study. Department of Employment, Education and Training., Canberra.
- Industry Commission Report. (1995) Research and Development. Report No 44, May. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- Larkins, F. (1988). Science and Technology Funding - Higher Education in Crisis. Chemistry in Australia, 422.
- Larkins, F. (1991). Infrastructure for Chemical Research in Decline. Chemistry in Australia, 303.

- Linke, R. (1995). Evaluation of Research Performance: A Review of Selected Input and Output Characteristics. Higher Education Division (DEETYA), Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- Luukkonen, T., Persson, O., & Silvertsen, G. (1992). Understanding patterns of international scientific collaboration. Science, Technology, & Human Values, 17, 101-126.
- McCain, K.W. (1981) Patterns of journal use in a departmental library: A citation analysis, Journal of the American Society of Information Science, 32 (4), 257-267.
- Mack, T. (1991) A model methodology for selecting women's studies core journals, Library and Information Science Research, 13 (2), 131-145.
- Maddox, J. (1995) What future for research in Europe. Nature, 377, 283-284.
- McReynolds, R. (1984) Limiting periodicals collection in a college library, Serials Librarian, 9 (2), 75-81.
- National Board of Employment, Education and Training (1993). Higher Education Research Infrastructure. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- National Board of Employment, Education and Training (1994). The Strategic Role of Academic Research. Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- National Board of Employment, Education and Training (1995). International Links in Higher Education Research, Commissioned Report No. 37 (P. Bourke & L. Butler), Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- National Board of Employment, Education and Training. (in press). Patterns of Research Activity in Australian Universities: Phase One. Commissioned Report (Turpin, T., Garrett-Jones, S., Johnston, R., Rankin, N., & Aylward, D). To be published by the Australian Government Publishing Service, Canberra.
- NWO (Nederlandse Organisatie voor Wetenschappelijk). (1996). Knowledge Enriches: NWO Policy Document 1996-2001. Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research, The Hague.

- OECD (1995). The Measurement of University R&D - Principal Problems of International Comparability. Workshop of the Implementation of OECD Methodologies for the Collection and Compilation of R&D Statistics in the Partners in Transition Countries and the Russian Federation, Chateau de la Muette, Paris, 4-5 December.
- Over, R. (1985) Career prospects for academics in Australian universities. Higher Education, 14, 497-512.
- Palca, J. (1990). Researchers declare crisis, seek funding solutions. Science, 249, 17-18.
- Saha, L.J. & Klovdahl, A.S. (1979) International networks and flows of academic talent: Overseas recruitment in Australian Universities. Higher Education, 8, 55-68.
- Science Watch (1996). Multinational Coauthorship: Has collaboration Peaked? Vol 7 No 1. Institute for Scientific Information, Philadelphia.
- Spang, L. (1995) Reconciling rising serial costs, the serials budget, and reference needs in a medical library serials retrenchment program: A methodology, Medical Reference Services Quarterly, 14 (1), 33-44.
- Swigger, K., & Wilkes, A. (1991) The use of citation data to evaluate serials subscriptions in an academic library, Serials Review, 17 (2), 41-46.
- The Australian* (1996). Minister Rejects HEC Finding. Higher Education Supplement, 19 June.
- Walden, B., Fineman, C., Monroe, W.S., & Parrine, M.J. (1994) Western European political science: An acquisition study, College & Research Libraries, 55 (4), 286-296.